

WASHINGTON
& JEFFERSON COLLEGE

The Department of Art and Art History is dedicated to teaching studio art, art education, and the history of art and to advising students in an atmosphere that encourages cooperation and independence among faculty and staff. The Department of Art and Art History is home to various courses of study including two majors and three minors designed for students of all disciplines to explore an interdisciplinary path.

Studio Art Major

- World Art I (ARH 101)
- World Art II (ARH 102)
- One 300-level ARH course
- 2D and 3D Design (ART 108)
- Beginning Drawing (ART 112)
- Ceramics Studio I (ART 361) or Sculpture I (ART 362)
- Painting Studio I (ART 363)
- One 300- or 400-level ART course
- Two 400-level ART Courses
- Senior Art Show

Art Education Major

- World Art I (ARH 101)
- World Art II (ARH 102)
- One 300-level ARH course
- 2D and 3D Design (ART 108)
- Beginning Drawing (ART 112)
- Ceramics Studio I (ART 361) or Sculpture I (ART 362)
- Painting Studio I (ART 363)
- 20th Century Art (ARH 355)
- Principles of Art Education (ART 400)
- One 400-level ART Course
- Senior Art Show

Minors

- Art History - Students in the Art History minor learn about historical and contemporary art movements, art objects, artists, aesthetics, subjects, and develop critical analytical and writing skills.
- Studio Art - Students in the Studio Art Minor hone their creative thinking skills and work on visual expression through a series of studio courses.
- Art Conservation - Students in the Art Conservation minor experience cultural preservation built on chemistry, art, and art history.

Department Chair

John P. Lambertson, Ph.D
jlambertson@washjeff.edu

Faculty

Carolina Alamilla, M.F.A. calamilla@washjeff.edu

Jennifer Bayline, Ph.D.
Art Conservation
jbayline@washjeff.edu

Doug McGlumphy, M.F.A.
dmcglumphy@washjeff.edu

Kristin Nelson, Ph.D.
Art Education
knelson@washjeff.edu

Patrick Schmidt, M.F.A.
pschmidt@washjeff.edu

W&J art students present their works in the Spring art show

Beyond the Studio

College-Funded Trips

Students have many opportunities for a variety of college-funded trips allowing them to expand their knowledge in the world of art.

- Annual trip for majors to NYC
- Regular trips to European art capitals
- Individually designed trips to study art

Typical Double Major Pairings

- Psychology and Art
- Business and Art
- Foreign Language and Art
- Chemistry and Art

Graduate School Preparation

- M.F.A. in Studio Art
- M.A. in Art Therapy
- M.S. in Art Conservation

Program Website

washjeff.edu/art